ISPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.

SAN RAFAEL, April 17th.—The train leaving at o'clock this morning for San Francisco, when bout half-way between here and San Quentin, was ditched by a bull which had got fast in a culvert. The engine turned upside down on one side of the track, and the tender on the other—both a complete wreck. The forward baggage car and one coach are considerably damaged. M. H. Allen, the engineer, considerably damaged. M. H. Allen, the engineer, was thrown out of I his cab when it went over, and was pretty badly bruised. Fireman Smith was cut about the head, but not seriously. Dennis Quinlan, car repairer, was hurt internally. W. F. McGee, brakesman, had his leg broken. No passengers were hurt, which seems miraculous, as the train was crowded. Travel will not be interrupted, as regular trips will be made via Saucelito until the track is clear.

Left His Family to Bear what He Dared not Face. MAXWELL, April 17th.—James L. Drake suicided with landanum last night. Cause financial trouble. He was aged 32, and was a native of Ohio. He leaves a wife and three small children here, and was its in Nara.

Oil Fire in Stockton. STOCKTON, April 17th.—This afternoon the wooden warehouse of the Continental Oil Company, containing about 14,000 gallons of coal oil, most of it in cases, was totally destroyed, with its contents. There was no insurance. The fire was caused by the upsetting of a coal-oil stove used for heating seldering irons.

PETALUMA, April 17th.—An election for Marshal, three City Trustees, four School Trustees, Treasurer, Assessor and five Library Trustees was held here Assessor and the Library frustees was seld here to-day. Much interest was manifested and an unusually large vote polled—624, against 558 last year. Although there were several heated contests, the day passed quietly. The count will not be completed until near midnight.

The Contested Will of the Late Senator Baker. San Jose, April 17th.—The hearing in the matter of the contested will of Hon. George F. Baker, de-ceased, took place to-day before a jury in the Supe-rior Court. The contestant, Mrs. Baker, mother of eceased, appeared by D. M. Delmas. There was no pposition, and Miss Lulu Baker, Charles W. Baker and City Attorney Herrington filed their consent to revocation. It will be remembered that the will vised only a life annuity from the estate to Mrs levised only a life annuity from the estate to Mrs. Baker and Lulu, the principal at their death to be used as a nucleus for an art museum at San Jose. The contestant sought to prove the deceased incompetent at the time of making the will, and Mrs. Baker deposed that at the time her son was State senator he was ill and flighty. Charles W. Baker unnounced that he had renounced all interest in the estate in favor of his mother. The jury were but twenty minutes, and returned a verdict "That the time of making his will. Michael Joseph Colins died suddenly at his residence, No. 319 Tehama street, at twenty minutes of 9 o'clock last evening. He was disrobing preparatory to retiring for the night, when he fell to the floor dead. An autopsy made this morning showed that death was caused by cerebral apoplexy. The company into line, and the wheelmen started for San Mateo. At 10:30 they arrived at the Sierra Point House. Here they dismounted for refreshments, after which the bugler sounded the "fall in," and the wheelmen sped away for D. O. Mills' residence. Arriving there they enjoyed the pleasure of a ride over the splendid drives at his beautiful place. They once more resumed their journey, and in due time arrived at the residence of C. W. Howard, at which place the wheelmen were, through the kindness of the aforesaid gentleman, allowed to hold their grand in augural "meet" of the season. The place selected was under a large and shady oak, and on the banks of the San Mateo creek. The cloth was here spread on the greenthat death was caused by cerebral apoplexy. The deceased was a native of Massachusetts, 33 years of age, married, and a plasterer by trade.

About 10 o'clock this morning a printer named George W. Lee was found dead in his room at the What Cheer House. He had for several days past complained of feeling ill. The deceased was about 53 years of age, and an old soldier. Pneumonia was the cause of death, as revealed by an autopsy made this afternoon. The deceased was a native of New York, and unmarried. The Dolliver Case Dismissed.

San Francisco, April 17th.—In the Police Court to-day the notorious Dolliver case was dismissed on motion of the Prosecuting Attorney, on the ground that there was an unwillingness on the part of the persons immediately concerned to prosecute; that two of the principal witnesses were absent—one in New York and the other in a northern county—and that there had already been two trials of the case. It was in this case that attorney Murphy was shot down in Court-room by officer Maroney. It is stated around the City Hall that the charge against Maroney will not be very heavily pressed.

saked what was wanted. The answer came back, emphasized with profane and obseene words:

"Lie down, or you will be shot." Mr. Stubbs told the intruder toget out, and sprang out of bed. As ne did so a dark lantern was turned on him, and s pistol shot was fired, the ball striking him in the left breast, just b low the nipple, and penetrating his heart. He staggered to the head of the stairs, tottered a moment and fell headlong down the flight, a corpse. The murderers immediately fled through the front door, mounted horses, which had been posted near the front gate, and rapidly disappeared in the eight.

A STRANGE DEFENSE The defense of Captain Sparks, of the ship Gatherer, on trial for permitting his mates to abuse the crew, is a curious one. He pretends that he was wholly ignorant of all that was going on. He never saw the mates beat any of the men but on one occasion, and then he threatened to nit the officer in irons if he repeated the offense. And though it is in evidence that nearly every one of the crew was beaten during the voyage, that blood was flowing on the decks all day long, that the cries of the abused men were incessant, so that it was difficult to sleep for them, yet this remarkable commanding officer asserts that he did not hear or see anything which could have opened his eyes to what was going on. If this is the best defense Captain Sparks can make, his case is a hopeless one, for he will certainly not find either a judge or a jury capable of such wholesale credulity as he seems to require.

Washington rumors are to the effect that the Southern Republicans are very much dissatisfied with their treatment by the Administration. It seems that they expected] representation in the Cabinet, but it is said that Mahone advised the President not to put a Southern man in office there, for the reason that he wished to control the Southern appointments himself. Before we undertake to sympathize with the dissatisfied Southern Republicans we should like to know precisely who they are. It is the more necessary to use caution in this connection because hitherto the Southern Republicans who have come most prominently to the front have belonged to a class of political adventurers of a kind calculated to bring no credit to any party. In New York Government bonds are quoted at It may be thought that if the men now expressing their discontentment are not in alliance with Mahone, the presumption in their favor ought to be tolerably strong, but unfortunately the South has not yet produced a line of Republican politicians any of whom could be accepted in the absence of credentials without incurring a considerable risk. It is easy enough to comprehend now that such a vessel ought not to have been allowed to go upon so dangerous an expedition; that every consideration of common sense was against her employment. But neither Mr. Bennett, his agents, nor the navy department, went deeply enough into the case to ascertain the extent of the danger that was being encountered, and though some of the officers of the expedition evidently understood the situation thoroughly, they, too, preferred to keep their lips closed, and to take these desperate chances. We have in the failure of the expedition another illustration of what must always be expected when inadequate agencies are employed. This expedition was fatally handicapped by a vessel which was virtually wrecked before it had been three months out of harbor, and to keep which afloat the men had to stick to the pumps for a year and a half. Had the vessel chosen been stouter, or had proper vessel been built for the expedition expressly, it is almost certain that it would have had a far more fortunate termination, and that it would not have resulted in a mere squandering of energies

THE AUDACIOUS TORY PROGRAMME It is stated that the English Conservatives are about to spring upon the Liberals a new plan for the settlement of the Irish question, which will throw all Mr. Gladstone's radical measures completely into the shade. What they contemplate is the establishment of a peasant proprietary in Ireland, and the buying out of the landlords by the Government. They calculate that the Liberals will be unable to object to this plan because they are already committed to the initial features of it, and they think that though it will demand the expenditure of a considerable sum-(the estimates range between $100,000,000 and $700,000,000) its popularity with the Irish masses will have so marked a pacifying influence as to recommend it also to the British public. As, however, it is believed that the Tories intend to look chiefly after the interests of the landlords, it is highly probable that they will not have gone far before they excite a new feeling of antagonism, especially among the English taxpayers who have lately come to the What would become of the principles of the Conservative party when it had adopted so radical a programme does not perhaps trouble its leaders any more than the same question has troubled the Democratic party when it was about to adopt the measures prietary scheme can certainly not be confined to Ireland, if it is once applied, it is difficult to perceive where the English landlords are henceforward to find their political support; the more especially since the extension of the borough and county suffrage must deprive them of the power of representing their own tenants in Parliament, unless the tenants want them there very particularly. Altogether it is a strange scheme, and even if it succeeds it will leave the Tories in the position of a party which has at last reached power by the heroic process of abandoning every one

Now, the first named parties propose to make a success of the affair, as to numbers, to make it remunerative also, in this way: To rent to some party, or parties, the privilege of selling all light drinks (excluding the sale of alcoholic drinks), tee cream, oranges, etc.; also the privilege of cooking and furnishing meals for the benefit of those wishing them; and, after paying fer the use of the grounds, the balance they propose to put in the School Fund of that District. While the first-named parties propose to conduct the affair in the interest of reform and education, the second parties propose to remunerate their own prockets. to remunerate their own pickets.
At Enterprise Grange, April 4th, a reunion of all the Grangers of Sacramento county was held. It was an open meeting, all classes of people from all parts of this county, as well as adjoin parts of this county, as were as adjoining countrys being present, and that no misunderstanding shoule exist in reference to the time or date of the desired event, that meeting adopted the 1st of May as the time they would held it.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

The Board of Supervisors of Sacramento the last meeting read and approved.

Supervisor Wilson offered the following resolutions and moved their adoption:

Whereas, The issue now most prominent before, and important to, the people of the Sacramento valley, is the protection of their property and homes from the ruin which threatens them by reason of the tailings of the hydraulic mines being poured into the public streams; and whereas, there is strength in unity and, without association nothing good of a public nature can be accomplished, therefore

Resolved, That the Supervisors of Sacramento county do hereby most respectfully and earnestly invite the Supervisors of the counties of Sutter, Yuba, Yolo, Colusa, Tehama, Solano, Butte and San Joaquin to meet with them in convention, in Sacramento, at noon on May 3, 1882, to consider how best our own and our people's homes can be defended from this invasion. And we also most cordially invite to meet with us upon that occasion, for consultation and advice, the residents and property opensor, each of the counties name for the following amendments to Ordinance No. Supervisor Wilson offered the following suitation and advice, the residents and property owners of each of the counties named. For in a multitude of counsel there is wisdom.

Resolved, That the Clerk of the Board be and he is hereby instructed to send a copy of the above resolution to the Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of each of the counties named, signed by himself, and sealed with our seal.

To the Henorable Board of Supervisors—Gentiemen: I have paid to the State and county license for the whole year, which was collected in March. Now the Supreme Court has decided that license unconstitutional. Now I ask your honorable body to be kind enough and pay me back the $9. I have paid too much to the Collector. That the trial could only be for petit larceny. The legal minds on the other side combatted these propositions by authorities showing the two charges contained in the information constitute a felony under Section 667 of the Penal Code, and that the twice jeopardy proposition had already been settled by the Supreme Court of this State, reported in 47 Cal. The Court, after hearing the able arguments of counsel, stated that it was a doubtful case, and that some doubtful questions of law were involved in it; however, he felt constrained to dismiss the writ and remand the prisoner to the custody of the Sheriff. BUSINESS CHANGE - William Geary arrived in this city yesterday from San Francisco to make this place his permanent residence. Mr. Geary was twenty years with the drug house of Reddington & Co. San the drug house the drug house of Reddington & Co., San Francisco, and for thirteen years of that and with Z. T. Cowdry. Mr. Cowdry is well known here. He was eight years with the firm of H. C. Kirk & Co., wholesale and reand a half he has been in business in San Francisco. He now returns to Sacramento and will make it his home. The new firm title is Kirk, Geary & Co. The copartners succeed to the business of H. C. Kirk & Co., succeed to the business of H. C. Kirk & Co., a firm known throughout all central California, and one of the oldest in the interier. The new firm announces that it will continue the business at 416 J street. Its attention will be given mostly to wholesaling, with a view of possibly doing no other than a job bing business. It is believed Sacramento presents especial advantages for jobbing in drugs and medicines, and the new firm proposes to give the business a full test, with the poses to give the business a full test, with the tope that it may demand the entire attention

THE TEMPERANCE REVIVAL.

There was a large and very fine audience at revival meetings. Geo. B. Katzenstein presided, and Rev. J. Q. A. Henry offered prayer. | sit all this week. duced, and spoke for an hour, He is an eloargument, witty and persuasive-in short, in the preceding twenty-four hours. Colonel Long is quite the ideal temperance orator. He places temperance oratory upon a considerably higher plane, and invests a trite subject with new interest. The central thought of his lecture last evening concerned the responsibility of society on the liquor question. He had no harsh words for the iquor drinker, nor indeed was his severity liquor drinker, nor indeed was his severity leveled at liquor sellers or makers, so much as against society, that encourages, sustains and upholds a traffic he deems to be inimical to the best interests of his race. The whole and the latter had considerable property was referred as of the dark in section 26, township 12 north, range 7 east.

Burglaries are becoming quite frequent in section 26, township 12 north, range 7 east.

Robert Williamson and W. R. Strong to Phileman E. Platt—April 15, 1882; for $2,000; the undivided and the latter had considerable property was referred. claimed that it is the middle man who is responsible for the evils of intemperance, the man who claims to know when to stop and just how far to go, and whose influence leads to ruin the men who can't stop, and who go too far. However, he concluded that this middle class is mistaken, from the fact that they do not know how far to go, nor just when to stop. It is a fatal mistake under which they labor. No man in all California could be found who, for any price, would agree to become a confirmed sot, and that gives the lie to the doctrine that every man has his price. He held that the man to blame of all others is he who can keep his stomach

Mrs. Emily Pitt-Stevens, Grand Worthy Vice-Templar of the Independent Order of Good Templars, was the second speaker. She took hold of her subject with both hands, and personal application that caused a flutter in the audience. She claimed that society sanctioned the making of Raten mad with liquor on Sunday, that brought all the animal to the surface on Monday, and sent him cut to slay James Lansing on that day; the same cause that led ex-Sheriff Maltby, of Yolo, a few days before, to go out into the woods and take his life to end his miseries. She spoke of the Order of Good Templars which she represented, and which is 18,000 strong in California, and said they'd be 20,000 strong before the close of the year. People sneered at it as being composed of common people. One lady had told her that the Order was doing a good work among the poor, was caring for the orphan, reclaiming the faller, and saving youths from becoming drunkard, but she couldn't unite in the work because society

Stevens a vigorous defense for the Order and its work; that it debarred no man or woman, led none to crime or dishonor, had no knowledge made without an accident, and everything of politics or religion, but recognized men and women as human beings, whom to keep structors. This locomotive, which weigh sober was better than make mad with liquor.

That was what the temperance people wanted to do, to save the home from ruin. She concluded with a touching and pointed anecdote, illustrative of the republican spirit, the Catholic aim, and the democratic breadth and depth of the temperance platform. WASHINGTON, April 17th. - When the new Chinese bill was brought up to-day under a suspension of the rules, Willis of Kentucky took the floor in crit the rules, Willis of Kentucky took the noor in cria-cism of the measure, and from the conclusion of his speech till adjournment the body was most of the time in uproar and confusion, which was started when Page, who was entitled to fifteen minutes for debate, instead of consuming that time, asked for a He had no sooner declared his intention not to peak when Rice of Massachusetts claimed the floor o speak against the measure, but was not recognized by the Speaker, who stated that he had not ecognized Willis as opposed to the bill, as that genleman had demanded a second on the original motion. Randall asked leave to have the House vote upor

Randall asked leave to have the House vote upon an amendment fixing the term of suspension at fifteen years, but was met with a storm of objections from the Republican side.

Then Springer and Kenna sprang to their feet, demanding as a matter of justice that Rice should be permitted to speak against the measure, and a heated colloquy ensued between Kenna and the Speaker, as to whether Kenna had risen to parliamentary inquiry, and as to his right to debate it.

Roberts of New Jersey entered the discussion, which was being carried on in an excited manner, and he was greeted with cries of "Order" from the Democratic side.

Kenna asserted his right to speak, and declared that "the Chair shall not deny to me that right," to which Humphreys of Wisconsin replied that such bluster was unnecessary, as there had not been any

Then Valentine of Nebraska called "Order," and the call being taken up by other Republicans, Randall's remarks were inaudible, and in a d cided tone he exclaimed that he would be heard.
Valentine contended that this remark was unpar-liamentary, and asked that it be taken down.
The Speaker—The Chair will state that he did not inderstand that the gentleman from Pennsylvania would be heard in spite of the Chair.

WASHINGTON, April 17th .- Classifying the Green Washington, April 17th.—Classifying the Greenback members according to their usual political qualifications on positions not involving financial issues, in an analysis of to-day's vote on the passage of the new Chinese bill, shows that 107 Democrats and 94 Republicans (total 291) were recorded in the affirmative, and that thirty-four Republicans and three Democrats (total 37) voted in the negative. These thirty-seven out-and-out, implacable and dyed in the wool opponents of any restrictive or anti-Chinese legislation, are to be credited geographically as follows: Massachusetts 7, Vermont 2, New Hampshire 3, Maine and Connecticut 1 each, stock, and but for Sage coming to his assistically as follows: Massachusetts 7, Vermont 2, New Hampshire 3, Maine and Connecticut 1 each, New York 7, Iowa 5, Ohio 4, Wisconsin 3, and New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Tennessee, 1 each. The three Democrats dissenting were Bragg of Wisconsin, Hardenburg of New Jersey, and Morse of Massachusetts. The last named member made his opposition very conspicuous early this afternoon, and nearly succeeded in preventing any action on the Chinese bill for several weeks by the interposing of all the seventeen committees, each in terposing of all the seventeen committees, each in turn, to refer it from, taking advantage of to-day's eall, and thus give him a chance on behalf of the Committee on Education and Labor to offer the Chinese bill. The earnest and Labor to offer the Chinese bill. The earnest personal appeals had the desired effect, for only five of the seventeen committees made use of their privilege, and the Chinese bill was brought before the House without further difficulty at about the usual hour for adjournment. The subsequent *proceedings were very animated, and at times exciting; but from the moment that the bill was declared to be before the House there was not a question in the mind of any one in regard to its triumphant passage, but a contest simply for the advantage of political position, and a general scramble among men of all parties to exhibit their superior decision in the same cause.

The Speaker stated that he would listen to the gentleman from West Virginia, but that gentleman had not proceeded far when again arose loud cries of "Order" from the Republican side, while Humphreys angrily exclaimed, directing his remarks to Kenna, "Set him down."

There was a great deal of angry feeling shown on both sides, which led Kenna, jocundly, to request his Republican friends to have patience, and no blood would be shed.

Randall of Pennsylvania at this point took exception to some remark of the Speaker, and was recognized. from the Pacific slope a few years ago. MIRDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting of burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.
